Letter From the IPPFA President--James McNamee

FROM THE PRESIDENT 2011

Dear IPPFA Members -

2011 is already going to be a very interesting and new year. The legislation has now passed both chambers and is being sent to Governor Quinn for consideration. He has 30 days to review and as soon as he signs it, our job is to inform our members through seminars and other means. With the SB3538 amendments, we have to prepare ourselves with these new changes for next year. IPPFA is there to serve our members, so make sure you view our website for upcoming training seminars that pertain to these new changes!!

As previously reported, the benefit changes will only impact police & fire employees that are newly hired into positions covered by the pension code on or after 1/1/2011. Current employee's benefits will not be affected by this legislation

The highlights of the bill include the following elements which are standardized retirement benefits for new public safety employees who enter the Articles 3 (downstate police), 4 (downstate fire), 5 (Chicago police), 6 (Chicago fire), and/or 7 (IMRF-SLEP) on or after 1/1/2011.

1. No change in employee contributions.

2. Maximum benefit will be 75% of final average salary* at 30 years of service and 55 years of age.
3. Final average salary* is defined as “the average monthly salary obtained by dividing the total salary of the police officer during the 96 consecutive months of service within the last 120 months of service in which the total salary was the highest by the number of months of service in that period.” (i.e. - last 10 years)

Note: For IMRF-SLEP Employees hired after January 1st – overtime will no longer be included in the average salary for pension purposes.

4. Maximum salary for pension purposes is capped at $106,800 for 2011. The cap will be increased each year thereafter by 3% or ½ of CPI-U whichever is less.
5. Survivor’s annuity benefits will be 66 2/3 of the deceased employee’s salary at time of death.
6. COLAs – Both retirees and survivors will receive COLAs equal to 3% or ½ of CPI-U the year of the 60th birthday.

The bill contains authorization for future pension fund studies. It also includes some very important funding compliance language that is designed to insure that our funds remain stable and secure for all current and future public safety retirees and employees.

While the IPPFA and our coalition partners, was opposed to some of the benefit reductions for new employees, we were successful in maintaining current employees’ benefits, all contribution levels, minimizing benefit reductions for new employees, and much to the disappointment of municipal employers - securing meaningful funding compliance language for all of the funds. We are disappointed that this legislation creates a two-tier pension benefit system for all police and fire employees. However, we are extremely proud of the fact that this legislation makes significant strides in insuring continued solvency for all current, and future, employees and retirees. The Senate will adjourn later today. Both chambers have scheduled a number of session days in January. I will certainly update you on further developments as they arise.

Please accept my personal best wishes for a Happy New Year.

James McNamee
President IPPFA

Family Protection Plus: Group Decreasing Term Life Insurance Plan

Effective October 1st, the IPPFA is pleased to announce that its members are eligible for a new benefit through the Conference on Public Employees Retirement Systems (NCPERS) Group Voluntary Life Insurance Family Protection Plan (FPP) Plan. Open enrollment for the FPP Plan continues through January 15, 2011. The NCPERS Life Insurance Plan has been offered for over 40 years, currently covers over 100,000 public employees and their dependents. We are pleased to offer this valuable new benefit to its members.

This plan is designed especially for public safety employees like you. It offers a supplementary survivor benefit to your retirement system’s benefits. Protecting your family’s future through your pension benefit is something everyone can be good about. But, how would your family support themselves if something tragic happened to you before you received your substantial pension benefit?

Family Protection Plus provides Life Insurance and Accidental Death & Dismemberment (AD&D) Insurance for eligible dependents—and Life Insurance for eligible dependents—all for just $17 a month. The plan is available for active employees and is in effect 24/7—on or off the job. There is no physical required, no health questions to answer, and the increases. Coverage can be continued into retirement.

The Group Decreasing Term Life Insurance pays your beneficiary a maximum benefit amount in your younger years and a gradually decreasing benefit amount in your older years. The AD&D coverage pays you or your beneficiary a benefit for death of life or other injuries resulting from a covered accident—100% for loss of life and a lesser percentage for other injuries. Injuries covered may include loss of sight and dismemberment of hands or feet. In the case of an accident, benefits are paid. For a member at least 25 years old and less than 30 years old, who died in an accident, the benefit is a $170,000 life insurance benefit plus a $100,000 AD&D insurance benefit—a total of $270,000. That would be a tremendous difference to a young family.

The Dependent Term Life Insurance provides Group Decreasing Term Life Insurance for your spouse and a flat benefit for all of your dependent children. The benefit amount will be paid to you in a lump sum upon the death of a dependent's death due to any cause. Spousal or domestic partner (where allowed by state law) benefits are available for your age at the time of your spouse's or domestic partner's death.

Domestic partners may not be recognized in all states.*

For members under 50, Family Protection Plus provides a substantial benefit when pension plan benefits are exhausted. For members over 50, it provides a good way to cover end of life and medical expenses, so other assets can be used to maintain your family's lifestyle. Payment is easy, too, with direct billing at home or automatic deductions from your paycheck.

This plan provides added protection for younger members, members who have substantial time on the job and who are new to this Plan is available within the first 90 days of your hire date or during the open-enrollment period to be determined by the Plan. There will never be a physical, health questions, or higher premiums. The cost remains at just $17 a month. Click Here for more...

How Will Higher Tax Rates Affect the National Retirement Risk Index? by Alicia H. Munnell, Anthony V. Golub-Sass from; The Center for Retirement Research at Boston College has released a new *Issue in Brief

The brief's key findings are:

Increased taxes and spending cuts will be needed to bring the federal budget under control.

Relying heavily on tax increases would modestly raise the overall NRRI (the percent of households 'at risk' of retirement income shortfalls) from 51 to 54 percent. But the NRRI would jump sharply for high-income Early Boomers, who face sharp increases in taxes and have little time to adjust. And while Gen Xers would see little change in their 'at risk' status, higher taxes would reduce consumption both before and after retirement. Click Here for more...

Tax cut lets you boost retirement savings

by TERRY SAVAGE savage@suntimes.com Dec 21, 2010 11:29AM

You'll have more money in every paycheck next year as part of the year-end tax deal. Don't spend it! That extra money should have gone to Social Security, but everyone knows that's a fiction.

So instead of spending that 2 percent windfall — redirect it into your 401(k) or 403(b) plan at work — or a Roth Retirement Account. Let's see what that could turn into over the next 30 years of your work life.

Social Security was scheduled to take a 7.65 percent bite out of income up to $106,800. But the actual percentage (without the Medicare tax) was 6.2 percent. Now, under the new tax bill, that will be reduced deduction for 2011.

So with the help of the Tax Institute at H&R Block, let's see what could happen to the tax cut money if spending it!

The Real Squeeze

by ROBERT J. SAMUELSON—The Washington Post—Monday, December 20, 2010

Except for those on Social Security and Medicare, government for most middle-class Americans consists of police, fire protection, roads and ambulance service. It's states and localities. How are they faring in the recession? Conventional wisdom holds that they've been crushed by dramatic declines in tax revenue and have reduced public services. Well, not exactly. When retirement finances become a heartfelt reality

By Janet Kidd Stewart, Special to Chicago Tribune Newspapers—December 17, 2010

Fewer presents under the tree for the grandchildren this year? Stepping down from "champion" to "bencher" is your favorite charity?

Paltry returns on low-risk investments and higher living costs are squeezing retirees' ability to continue giving patterns, and the loss is more than financial.

"The grandkid issue is really tough, even more so than giving to adult children," said Art Koff, author of "The Retirement" (Oakhill Press) and founder of RetiredBrains (retiredbrains.com). "It can be really embarrassing for a young child calling you out on it. 'Hey, why am I only getting $10 this year, Grandpa?'"

Carol Daebler, vice president at Milwaukee-based M&I Investment Management, sees similar stories, especially among her colleagues.

She has known professionals who put off retirement to keep up giving patterns to family. Giving gifts and maintaining a sort of status that we are still in our prime, she said. Click Here for more...

Illinois' public pension funds

It is unfortunate that "The suicide pacts" (Editorial, Nov. 28) continues to repeat the unfounded prediction of a University finance specialist that Illinois' public pension funds "could pay out their last dollar in eight years."

a made-up apocalypse only serves to needlessly scare retired teachers and other public employees in retirement benefits will end within a decade. Nothing could be further from the truth.

The doomsday prediction by Joshua Rauh ignores reality and uses selective facts and figures to reach The state's largest public pension system, Teachers' Retirement System, had its actuaries, Buck Cons check the validity of Rauh's claim. Buck found that the doomsday prediction will only come true for TR eight years — TRS does not receive any contributions from active teachers, school districts and state less from its investments than even conservative estimates predict. That scenario is simply next to imp Illinois state law requires teachers and school districts to contribute to TRS, so the only way those con public schools stop operating.

Further, Rauh's calculations are based on an unrealistic investment return of about 2 percent per year fiscal year 2010, the actual rate of return on TRS investments was 13.5 percent. Over the last 25 years Many corporate pension funds set earnings targets at 6 percent per year.

Finally, your reference to "too-generous" pensions misses the mark for educators when you consider t pension for a retired Illinois teacher — who does not receive Social Security — is $45,000.

Number of the Week: 1.6 Million Put Off Retirement

By Mark Whitehouse—The Wall Street Journal—December 11, 2010

1.6 million: The number of older Americans in the labor force as a result of the financial crisis. The fir hard on just about everyone. But for older folks, the pain is proving particularly deep and lasting — a p drag on the economy for many years to come.

People approaching retirement age are suffering on all fronts. Even with the Dow above 11,000, their s worth less than they were back in 2006. Fixed-income investments hardly provide any income. Home p depressed.

As a result, more older people are trying to make up lost ground by staying at work longer or rejoining precisely at a time when finding a job is exceedingly difficult.

In a new paper, two economists at the Chicago Fed — Eric French and David Benson — estimate tha rate among people 51 to 65 years old is 2.9% higher as a result of their financial losses alone. That's a million people staying in jobs or looking for work.

In most states of the world, anything that motivates more people to work would be beneficial for the ec have valuable skills and experience, and their participation increases the nation's potential to produce But at a time when the economy is already running far below its potential, the added labor supply serv unemployment rate, as more people compete for scarce jobs. Since August, the unemployment rate fo has averaged 7.3%, the highest level since at least 1948. Click Here for more...

How Do I Satisfy The Annual Training Requirements

In 2009 the Illinois legislature passed two laws requiring a total of 16 hours of annual training for Downstate pension trustees, 8 hours more than trustees that sit on other public pension funds. Eight hours of this training include the topics of ethics, fiduciary responsibilities and investments, not 8 hours on each topic as some may think. The training for the second eight hours is decided on by each board as to what is relevant and available to them. To satisfy these requirements the IPPFA offers several ways to obtain the training: Click Here for more...
